

YOUR DONATION IS MAKING AN IMPACT.

Together we are ensuring that food banks can continue to serve Canadians who need a little help whether because they've lost their job, are caring for a family member, are living on limited income, or working but just can't make ends meet.

HOW YOUR GIFT IS MAKING AN IMPACT

52%

FOOD PURCHASED

Your gift is purchasing nutritious and varied food products and ensuring that food banks have an ample supply to meet whoever comes to their door needing help in a dignified manner. Food banks are able to purchase food locally, if that makes the most sense for their community. Food Banks Canada has purchased $13 million worth of food, including enough to build 390,000 hampers containing 8.5 million meals. In addition to that, we've shared over 2.5 million lbs of donated product.

45%

MEETING UNIQUE COMMUNITY NEEDS

Each community is facing unique challenges, and your support is helping ensure each food bank can respond to those needs. You are supporting safe alternative delivery systems so that all communities are reached and we help to minimize travel and exposure for people. And, because fewer people are able to volunteer right now, you are helping to bolster food bank staffing so that food banks can keep up with demand and ensure that we can also follow all safety and distancing protocols.

DELIVERING THE FOOD AND FUNDS

Food Banks Canada has the ability to bring together businesses both small and large as well as the federal government and hundreds of thousands of Canadians to ensure that we are supporting every corner of the country.

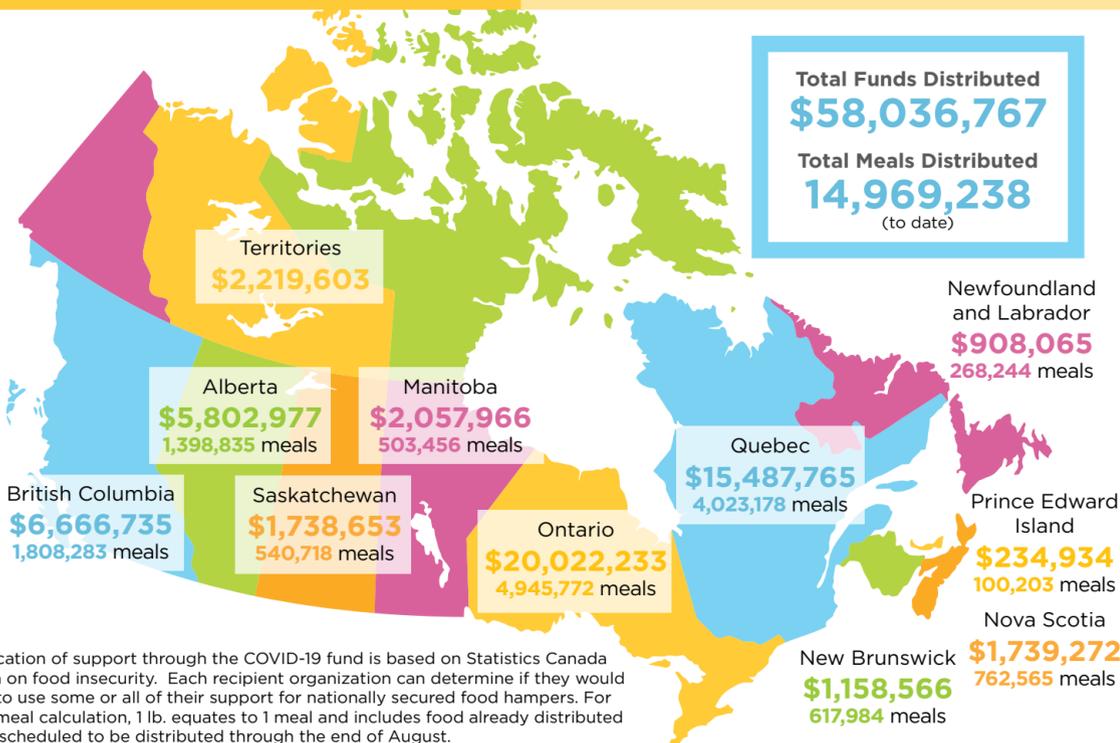

WHERE YOUR GIFT IS MAKING AN IMPACT

"The incredible integrity of my coworkers and community partners inspire me every day and make it easy to show up and continue to make tough decisions. The hardest thing has been planning for the unknown. The money received is providing the food to supply of the exponential influx of people needing support."

Lori Pyne,
Executive Director,
Whistler Community Services Society

"We have shipped to 52 First Nation communities, rescue first time social programs, and hopefully will have made many people smile again. I am showing serious scars from the physical strain, the fatigue, and mental anxiety, accumulated over the past few months. I could never get through this alone."

Volker Kromm,
Executive Director, Regional Food
Distribution Association
Thunder Bay, Ontario.

"For the first time in my life I needed to visit a Food Bank. I didn't have any funds to make a monetary donation, but I did leave some handmade knitted slippers which they graciously accepted. The slippers weren't much but all I had at the time."

Client, Mississauga Food Bank

"Due to the generosity of the donors towards the COVID 19 response, we have strengthened our food bank network in NB in order to allow them to meet immediate needs in order to most vulnerable families in our province as well as increase the capacity for food banks to acquire adequate nutritious foods."

Chantal Senecal,
Executive Director, Food Depot Alimentaire

WE'VE ALMOST MET OUR GOAL

Prior to the pandemic food banks across Canada had an average of 1 million visits per month. Providing food to people in need has always been a challenge, with the pandemic this task has become much harder both in the short term and in the unpredictable longer-term.

We have almost reached our goal. With your help we can help ensure food banks can continue to serve their community on our long road to recovery.

OUR GOAL: $150,000,000

$40M in committed funds will be received and dispersed over the next 6 months.
